

Leadership for Justice September 2017

Leadership for Justice equips equal justice leaders with the competencies needed to work in highly diverse settings, to help their organizations navigate and succeed in increasingly complex economic and policy environments, and to understand and address the high-stake challenges facing the clients and communities they serve.

Built upon five core practices that distinguish effective equal justice leaders, Leadership for Justice focuses both on sharpening leadership skills needed for effective external advocacy, as well as on the individual self-awareness and interpersonal skills needed to lead with authenticity and cross-cultural competency.

Course Pricings.

Early Bird Specials.

- Individuals: $875 course fee + $520 for lodging and meals — $ 1,395 each.
- Group (3+ participants): $825 course fee + $520 for lodging and meals — $ 1,345 each.
- Deadline: July 24th, 2017.

Standard Pricings.

- Individuals: $1200 course fee + $520 for lodging and meals — $1,720 each.
- Group (3+ participants): $1100 course fee + $520 for lodging and meals — $ 1,620 each.

Additional Lodging Information.

This course takes place over two weeks with online activities during the week of September 4, 2017 and onsite activities on September 12 – 15, 2017. Registration fees include the online and onsite course activities, plus 3 nights of lodging and 3.5 days of meals at the Loyola University Chicago Retreat and Ecology Campus in Woodstock, Illinois.